This Ice Box Saves You Money

Big ice bills indicate a poorly constructed ice-box. More than that, they indicate that unless you continually feed ice, you waste money in food and risk the health of the family by not properly protecting the food in warm weather.

The ice-boxes we will show you are built to last for years and give perfect service. Their construction makes the ice last longer, and a low temperature is maintained in the food chambers constantly. They actually save you their cost many times over.

There will be a monthly meeting for the entire membership of the Barre Board of Trade Friday evening in the granite manufacturers' hall in the C. W. Averill block at 8 o'clock. Prof. A. L. Smith of Dartmouth college, Hanover, N. H., will be the guest of the evening and he is to speak on the subject of "The Possibilities of a Modern and Efficient Commercial Organization." It is stated that members and others present will be given an opportunity to ask questions and to discuss and present individual ideas and opinions on any subject of general interest. Refreshments will be served at the close of the meeting.

Flag day was accorded an appropriate observance in the Worthen block hall last evening when an excellent impromptu program and get-together were carried out under the direction of the woman's auxiliary to the Sons of Veterans. Members of the latter organization were present and a number of Civil war veterans attended as guests of the women. Choruses, solos and recitations were contributed to the program and afterward there was an interesting exchange of stories and war time reminiscences. The hall was attractively decorated with bunting and a large flag suspended from the window ledge proclaimed that the observance was in progress. Refreshments of cake and ice cream were served.

Redemptorist fathers from Worcester, Mass., Rev. Frs. Moore and Hurley, are preaching to large congregations at St. Monica's church this week. In contrast to the services last week, which were for women, the mission this week is solely for men. Some of the delivery formulas copied from the Redemptorist fathers by prominent evangelists of to-day are used by the Worcester clergymen in their homilies to the men of the parish, and much has been achieved thus far in awakening a new interest in the church and its precepts. Many non-Catholics are attending the mission. Services are held daily at 5 a. m., 8 a. m., and at 7:30 o'clock in the evening. The mission will conclude at the end of the week.

Two days have passed since the Beau Brummel of small-time burglars entered the store of F. H. Rogers & Co. and glutted his penchant for fastidious dress, yet the chances that he has made a safe getaway are better than on the morning the theft was discovered. Minor clues that turned up in a forenoon's examination of the premises around the Quillen block have been exhausted by the police and it is reported that the sheriff's department has been unable to make any progress in the search for the Chesterfield burglar. Yesterday it was thought that a trio detained in Montpelier for alleged implication in a garage theft might know something of Tuesday morning's affair, but a comparison of notes by the Montpelier and Barre police did not tend to establish a strong connecting link.

Acts of hoodlumism along the high bank which borders South Main street on the east have been nipped in the bud by the police. Yesterday several houses were bombarded by stones and clouds of dirt and it was not until the police intervened that the besiegers ceased firing. Low visibility may account for the fact that little damage was done, but the police are inclined to think that the bombardment would have developed seriously but for their intervention.

Woman's Club Notes.
